WHO SHE IS

A working actor, not a pet account

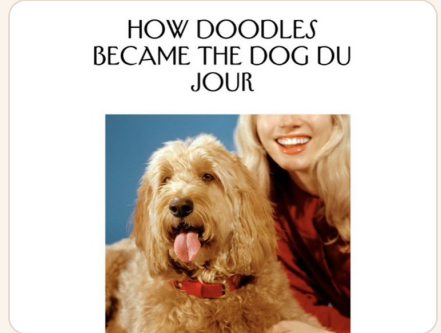

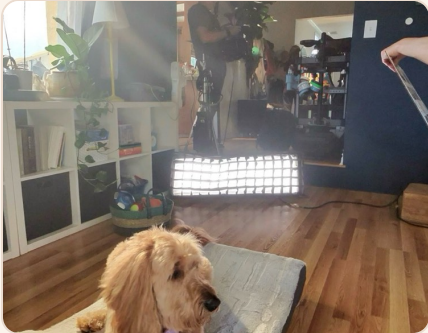

Peach is a Goldendoodle actor and model based in Los Angeles, and a trained psychiatric service dog. She takes direction, hits a mark, and holds a stay in a room full of strangers, which is why brands get usable footage on the day instead of fifty takes of a dog looking away.

Real numbers, listed openly

Peach appears across all of it. My own accounts carry the larger audience and hers are growing, and it is dog content either way, which is why the combined figure is the honest one. Every account is listed so you can check any of them.

What actually performs

The strongest content on the channel is instructional, not lifestyle. The two top videos are both dog yoga, at roughly eight times the views of general posts. Audiences come for the teaching.

Why the number is not the point

Peach books commercial work through casting. A brand hiring her is buying a trained animal actor and content they can run in paid media, not impressions on a feed.

Three animals, one production

Peach books through casting for commercial and print. Everything else, the social content and the series, is produced in house, so a brand is not booking a dog and then hiring a crew. Peach leads, and there are two cats available for multi pet work.

Peach

Goldendoodle, female, spayed, five years old. Trained psychiatric service dog. Studio cue trained. Water and surf capable. Works for toy as well as food, which matters on a set where you cannot feed between takes.

Morrison and Chanel

Two cats, in house and camera comfortable. Available for multi pet shoots, cat and dog household content, and any brand whose audience is not dog only. Chanel is a senior, which suits senior pet and wellness briefs.

Why multi species matters

Most pet brands sell to households, not to species. A single shoot can deliver dog only, cat only, and together, which is three content sets from one production day.

Filmed by the handler

No wrangler fee, no coordination overhead, no third party crew. Shot and edited in house and delivered ready to post.

What we produce

On set talent

Peach on your commercial, print or branded shoot with her handler. Trained to the studio cue list and used to crew.

UGC and owned content

Vertical video and stills shot and edited by us, delivered as files. You get the assets, not just a post on our feed.

Social partnership

Instagram, TikTok and YouTube as @peachpawfect. Collaborator posts and product integration.

Series integration

Your product inside Flight School, Surf School, Film School or Doga School, in the story rather than bolted on.

A typical monthly package

- 4 vertical videos, 9:16, shot and edited, ready to post
- 6 to 8 stills, lifestyle and product, in 4:5 and 1:1
- 1 long form piece per quarter for a product page

Usage rights

- Organic use on your owned channels, perpetual, included.
- Paid media included too, at no extra cost. The one ask is that ads run from your own account rather than from Peach's handles.

Happy to start with a single month before any longer commitment.

Let's work together
